

Table of contents

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Introduction | 9 |
| 1. Misinformation and disinformation about SARS-CoV-2 and COVID-19 | 21 |
| 1.1. Introduction | 21 |
| 1.2. Lens effect: media and information trends during the pandemic | 26 |
| 1.3. COVID-19-related infodemic as an example of polluted information ecosystem | 43 |
| 1.4. Covid-related disinformation conglomerate | 56 |
| 1.5. SARS-CoV-2 and COVID-19 in the narratives of propaganda media outlets | 67 |
| 2. Conspiracy narratives regarding SARS-CoV-2 and COVID-19 in virtual echo chambers | 75 |
| 2.1. Introduction | 75 |
| 2.2. Selected social trends during the pandemic | 78 |
| 2.3. Phenomenon of global and local conspiracy narratives | 86 |
| 2.4. Selected mechanisms of psychological and information influence at the service of COVID-19-related infodemic | 96 |
| 2.5. Anti-covid, anti-mask and anti-vaccination chambers on the alt-internet | 103 |
| 3. COVID-19-related infodemic in Polish public discourse | 123 |
| 3.1. Introduction | 123 |
| 3.2. Contemporary public discourse: role, opportunities and challenges | 125 |
| 3.3. Covid-related post-truth | 131 |
| 3.4. Selected discourse strategies in the covid debate | 137 |
| 3.5. Recapitulation | 169 |
| Conclusion | 175 |
| References | 181 |
| Summary | 201 |