

Table of Contents

Preface	9
---------------	---

PART ONE. IDEAS

Main Directions of European Administrative Sciences in the 18 th and 19 th Centuries	15
I.1. The Police Science as a Source of Modern Administrative Sciences	15
I.2. Development of Administrative Sciences in the 19 th Century	24
I.3. French Administrative Science in the 19 th Century	27
I.4. German Administrative Science in the 19 th Century	30
I.5. Russian Administrative Law Literature Until the Early 20 th Century	36
I.6. Origins of Modern Administrative Sciences in Polish Lands in the 18 th Century and the First Half of the 19 th Century	53
I.7. Formation of the Polish School of Administrative Law	62

PART TWO. INSTITUTIONS

Basic Concepts, Definitions and Theoretical Constructions in the European Science of Administration and Administrative Law	75
II.1. The Concept of Administration and Administrative Law	75
II.2. Administrative Relationship and Public Personal Law	83
II.3. Administrative Entities. Theory of Administrative Body	87
II.4. Legal Forms of Administrative Activity	91
II.5. Structures of the Legal Organization of Public Administration	99
II.5.1. Real and Provincial System	99
II.5.2. Centralisation and Decentralisation of Administration	103
II.5.3. Concentration and Deconcentration of Administration	106

II.6. Theory of Self-Government 109

II.7. Legal Status of Officials 121

II.8. Administrative Judiciary in the European Doctrine of Administrative Law at the Turn of the 19th and 20th Centuries 126

Summary 139

Bibliography 143

Index 157